

Geometrics Knowledgebase

How do I get started with MagPick?

Geometrics has provided various resources to help you load your data into MagPick for data processing, review and creating contour maps. You can find step by step procedures in the Magnetometer Technical Notes section of the website. In this same section, you can also find a diagram for loading land magnetometer data into MagMap2000 and MagPick.

In addition to the technical notes, Geometrics also provides a MagPick video series in the company Video Library.
